

Co design in practice: Sheet 1

Activity two: Engage - Organisational and consumer considerations

Now that you have your idea to co design, on your table collectively discuss the following questions and recording your answers

You will be required to feed them back to the rest of the room.

1. What might you need to consider in terms of organisational buy-in?
2. Who might you need to engage in your organisation?
3. What other organisations might you need to consult?
4. What might you need to consider when inviting consumers to be part of your co design working group?
5. How might you engage community members to join the co design working group?
